Competition

The Federation of Fright

It has come to our attention that human children have run out of nightmares. It appears that children are no longer having bad dreams, and this has led the Secret Committee for the Advancement of Real Evil (S.C.A.R.E.) to conclude that not enough things are going bump in the night.

As part of our new "Focus on Fear" campaign we have decided to hold a competition to find the Grisliest Ghoul. We will be studying the diary entries of each competitor in order to judge them on their terror tactics. The winner will be the proud owner of the famous Poisoned Chalice and will be presented with the Monster Medal.

Anyone wishing to enter should send a diary entry to the Federation of Fright by midnight on Monday.

Yours sincerely,

Z. Ombie
